

The Restoration of Victory Park

This summer, Olmstead Parks will begin a $2.4 million restoration of Victory Park. This comes after working with Councilman David James and involvement of the community. The Restoration includes new basketball court, internal walking track, new sidewalks, a new playground and splash park, and new sidewalks. Here are artists renderings of what has been proposed.

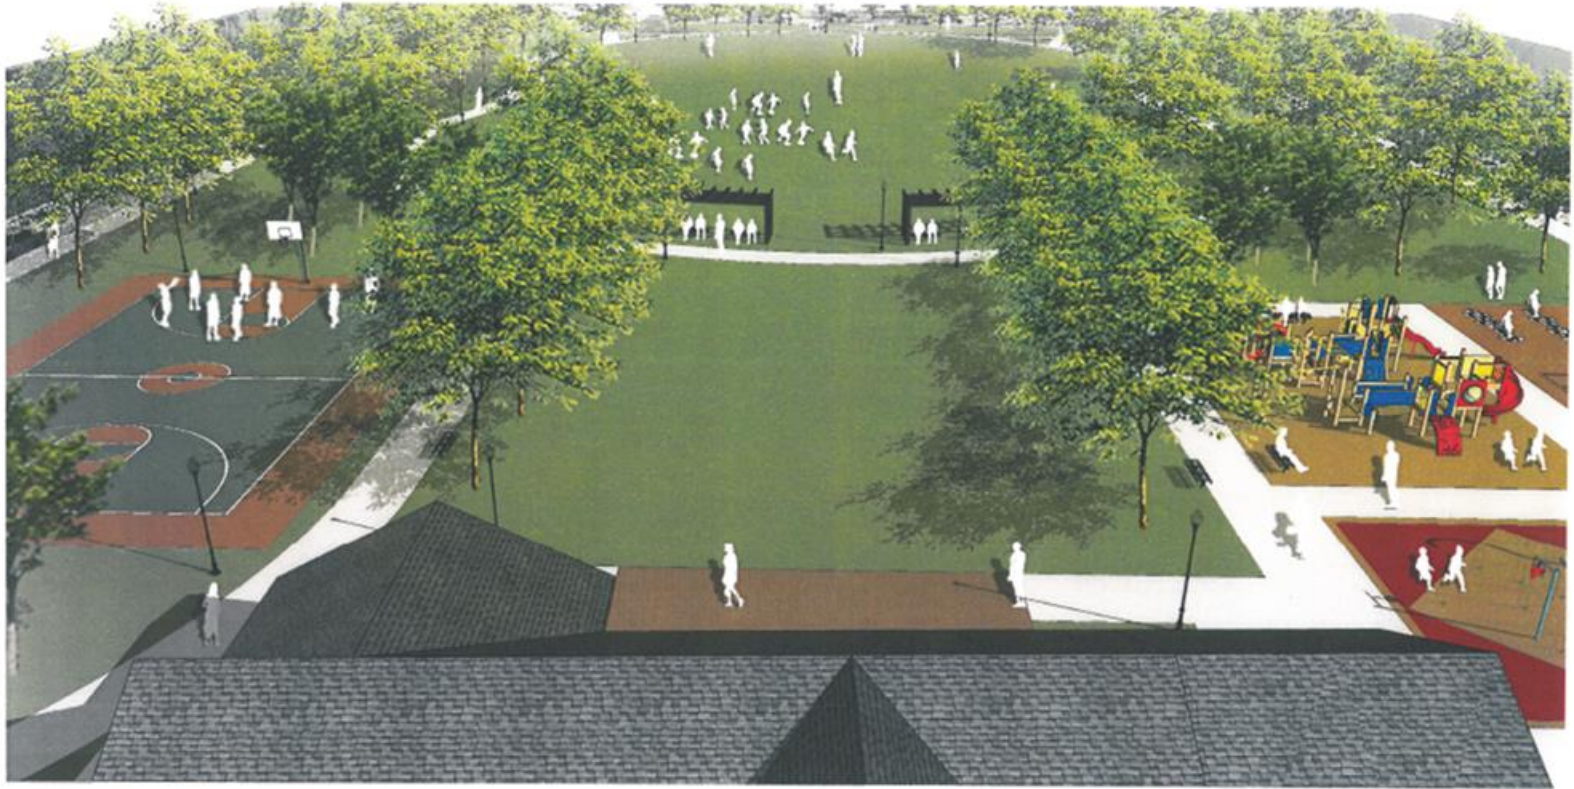

Victory Park Refresh Plan

Play area looking towards multi-use field

January 2016

Victory Park Refresh Plan

View from lodge looking east
January 2016

Victory Park Refresh Plan

Multi-use field looking southeast

January 2016

Victory Park Refresh Plan

Play area looking towards 23rd Street and Greenwood Ave.
January 2016

Phase 1 of the restoration begins in August. To read more about the plan go to:
<http://www.olmstedparks.org/2016/01/victory-park-master-plan-approved/>

